

Texas ENA Conference: Challenging Case Studies in Emergency Nursing

June 5, 2026

Speaker Bios

Cam Brandt, MS, RN, CEN

Cam retired from pediatric emergency nursing after 40 years that included neonatal flight nursing, pediatric emergency and trauma nursing and nursing education. She has been an instructor for AHA and ENA courses for over 30 years as well as a speaker on many pediatric-related courses. She was the 2023 recipient of ENA's Judith Kelleher award. Her experiences have honed her passion to be prepared to care for ill and injured kids and to mentor others so they might have the knowledge and skills to be more comfortable in caring for our littler patients. This passion has led her to being involved with the ImpACTS team and she is the project manager of the Michigan Pediatric Readiness Improvement Project, working with her colleagues to assist hospitals in the state of Michigan to improve their pediatric readiness.

Nicole Brooks, BSN, RN, CEN

Nicole Brooks, BSN, RN, serves as a Stroke and Cardiac Program Manager at Baylor Scott & White Health, specializing in the intersection of clinical excellence and operational performance. She is dedicated to improving outcomes in time-sensitive conditions by aligning evidence-based care with efficient, high-reliability processes. Nicole is passionate about empowering interdisciplinary teams, advancing quality initiatives, and shaping the future of patient-centered care across the healthcare continuum.

Jessica Jones, PharmD, BCPS

Dr. Jessica Jones, a Doctor of Pharmacy graduate from the University of Texas at Austin, began her tenure at St. Joseph Health in Bryan, TX in 2010 following a PGY1 residency in Tucson, Arizona. Her career at St. Joseph Health has seen her rise from a clinical staff pharmacist to a critical care pharmacy specialist (2012) and, subsequently, a clinical pharmacy manager (2016). A board-certified pharmacotherapy specialist with expertise in critical care and infectious disease, Dr. Jones leads crucial medication related initiatives in areas including antimicrobial stewardship, medication safety and pain management. She is also instrumental in developing pharmacy protocols, policies, and formulary management, and oversees pharmacy operations across the organization's critical access hospitals.
